

PILOT GENDER ANALYSIS WORKSHOPS WITH WOMEN WITH DISABILITIES

2 DAY TRAINING WORKSHOPS

Supported by a Federal Government Women's Leadership Development Grant.

WHY ATTEND A WORKSHOP ON GENDER ANALYSIS?

The pilot workshops will provide women with disabilities attending with an introduction to gender analysis. Participants will consider key concepts and a selection of gender analysis frameworks, approaches, tools and questions. Opportunities will be provided for participants to apply and further develop their gender analysis skills through the application of selected tools to policy, project, service delivery and community related case studies. The workshops will also provide an introduction to important international instruments including Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women and the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and its Optional Protocol.

HOW MUCH DO THE WORKSHOPS COST?

The workshops are made possible through a Federal Government grant to UNIFEM Australia. Registration is free and will include a light morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea. Participants must meet their own travel and accommodation expenses.

WHO WILL DELIVER THE WORKSHOPS?

The workshops will be facilitated by the Gender Consortium, Centre for Development Studies, Flinders University (GC) training team. The GC's ethos is:

- An active learning approach which emphasises creative exchange and sharing of knowledge and experience out of which new knowledge emerges for understanding approaches to gender mainstreaming, gender analysis and empowerment.
- The need to be self-reflective in our approach to participatory development.
- Being reflexive and conscious of our own cultural practices and values.
- Knowledge is situated and therefore development practice must be localised.
- Making a difference to both personal and organisational cross-cultural practice.

ABOUT UNIFEM AUSTRALIA?

UNIFEM is the United Nations Development Fund for Women. It provides financial and technical assistance to innovative programs and strategies that promote women's human rights, political participation and economic security in more than 100 developing countries.
